First of all I had an excellent interview experience. This was far from the normal stiff interview and was actually a lot of fun. I really believed what I was being told about the close knit family experience. The company had also just won some very large customers and I was keen to get involved.

Jim Stephenson, Project Manager

As soon as I met Eoin and Anthony I was blown away by how much they had achieved in such a short space of time. They demonstrated to me their vision with such passion and belief it was abundantly clear that Integrity360 was going places. I'm pleased to say I was right and to be honest the passion and belief is even stronger than ever before.

Mark Evans, UK Country Manager

As an Information Security graduate, the opportunity to work at a leading Infosec company played a big part. A friendly working environment as well as the prospect of increasing my knowledge in the field with formal training and learning from other senior colleagues were big factors in attracting me to Integrity360.

Jamal Ali, Security Analyst

From working in the industry, I knew the excellent reputation that Integrity360 had. For me it was a company of choice and it presented a great opportunity for me to specialise in an area that I had a real love for. I knew that Integrity360 was the correct choice for me as they had a wealth of knowledge, expertise and second to none track record. They were and still are the market leader in their field.

I was given the opportunity to reach out to more customers, projects, and stretch out my potential instead of being stuck in one monotonous job. Integrity360 allows me to go much further.

Rodney Mullen, Project Manager

What drew me towards the company was the growth story, the growth potential, the dynamism and can-do attitude of the company and its people.

Padraig Carley, CFO

I joined because I wanted a career change and felt that IT Security was where I wanted to be and Integrity is a leader in the industry. I liked the emphasis on training and learning on the job. Additionally, I enjoy challenges and this was something new for me.

Christopher Walsh, Network Security Analyst

I joined Integrity360 because company seemed to be thriving, growing and going places. Not only that, Integrity360 offers great career development, something great to offer at any stage in one's career.

Aiden Dale, Security Consultant

Integrity360 hires people from all around the world, with different backgrounds, different cultures, and we all work and learn together. Relocating from Brazil, this was important to me.

Felipe Martins, Security Consultant

Tell us what it's like to work at Integrity360

Integrity360 is a fast moving, fast growing company. As such, it's very chaotic at times and sometimes very stressful. That, however can be said of pretty much the entire IT industry. The pace of work means it's easy to get lost, or feel overwhelmed.

I cannot emphasise enough that in this situation there is a great support structure in place in the organisation. If you need help from any department, just walk straight up to their area and talk to them. Everyone is really friendly and helpful.

Paul Maher, Security Consultant

For me the most apparent new opinion I have developed since joining Integrity360 is how thriving and determined the company as a whole is to want to grow, develop and generally better itself. If something isn't quite right it is recognised and actioned to make it right.

Aiden Dale, Security Consultant

There is a lot of opportunity in Integrity360 with the company growing at such an exponential rate. All kinds of responsibility is given to you if you have ambition to ask and take it.

Niall Bulger, Account Manager

My day can be challenging, but challenging in a good way. I get to work with different consultants and customers, and get the chance to learn from excellent technical resources.

Jim Stephenson, Project Manager

The first thing that took me by surprise was that I hit the ground running. I was given a lot of support and when things went wrong everyone would group together to help solve an issue with an emphasis on “How do we fix and how do we stop it from happening again” as opposed to “who is to blame”.

Rodney Mullen, Project Manager

Integrity360 puts great importance on the continuous development of their employees and there are always opportunities for advancement and learning within the company. On a social note, Integrity360 knows the importance of putting time aside to build on the social interactions with their staff.

Mark Donnelly, Security Consultant

There’s always something new to learn. I had the perception that Integrity360 was a great place to work and I’ve not been disappointed since joining.

Jamal Ali, Security Analyst

What do you like most about working at Integrity360?

You spend roughly 60% of everyday with colleagues. I have found lifelong friends in this company and that makes it a lot easier to show up every day when things get challenging.

Niall Bulger, Account Manager

People are really welcoming and helpful. There is a great atmosphere and there is great respect among colleagues.

Adrian Fernandez, Network Security Analyst

Everyone's work is appreciated and everyone always finds time to chat and smile. I learn something new every day. I learn from my colleagues and clients. I learn from projects I am assign to work on and clients I interact with. I feel like I can upskill myself and grow my knowledge and area of expertise. I am not afraid to share my knowledge and provide my opinion.

Barbara Pires, Cyber Risk & Assurance Advisor

The fact that an opinion matters, that people can take responsibility and are offered the chance to try doing what they like.

Barbara Bogdanescu, Pre Sales Technical Architect

Learning new technologies and expanding my knowledge. There's a great sense of achievement when a customer's issue is solved and you were the one who solved it for them.

Christopher Walsh, Network Security Analyst

The most exciting part of the job is when our customers tell us how vital we are to their operation and being told on regular basis we have prevented a certain issue or attack which could have been catastrophic had they not been detected.

Mark Evans, UK Country Manager

I love the flexibility that Integrity360 offers. There are great people to work with and no matter the situation someone is always happy to give up their time to help you. When times are tough we pull through as a team and make things better. I also love the dynamic, ever changing nature of the job. You never get bored.

Aiden Dale, Security Consultant

I've learned a lot during my time here and continue to do so. Integrity360 is interested in my career progression and have given me lots of opportunities for training.

Aisling Corcoran, Marketing Executive

Great people, great technologies, great customers and a great structure.

Mark Donnelly, Security Consultant

You feel part of something. You are part of a growing company and you can take responsibility and contribute to the change and the growth.

Sarp Agim, Security Consultant

The most exciting part is the fact that I have access to the newest technologies. I can improve my technical knowledge with different available training here and I have a chance to help everyone to make Integrity360 a better place to work.
